Elland Hill

Elland came to East Riding College knowing she wanted to study Fashion, she came with very limited qualifications, but at her interview she shone and the tutor decided to give her a place.

Elland hadn't had a good time at school, but at college she really found her calling. She did well in all her units achieving a D*D*D and she also won the BTEC Art and Design student of the year, which was a real accolade to not only her but her tutor too.

Elland is now studying a BA Hons in Fashion Design at Northumberland University.
